Re Point V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: US 2002/083771 A1 (KHURI-YAKUB BUTRUS T ET AL) July 4, 2002 (07-04-2002)

D4: EP-A-1 348 954 (SERVICES PETROLIERS SCHLUMBERGER) October 1, 2003 (10-01-2003)

[handwritten: D4 not relevant]

2. Novelty (Article 33(2) PCT)

The present application does not meet the requirements of Article 33(1) PCT because the of subject matter of Claims 1, 2 and 6 are not novel as defined by Article 33(2) PCT. The reasons for this are as follows:

2.1 INDEPENDENT CLAIM 1

Document D1 describes (the references in parentheses refer to this document) an ultrasonic flow sensor having at least one ultrasonic transducer for emitting and receiving ultrasonic signals (see Abstract), including:

- an array of a plurality of ultrasonic transducers which is positioned on the pipe and emits ultrasonic signals which flow through the fluid (paragraph [0027]),
- a reflective surface lying opposite the array (paragraph [0027]), and
- a receiver electronic system which detects and evaluates an ultrasonic signal reflected on the reflective surface and received on the array (paragraph [0024]).

All features of Claim 1 have already been described in Document D1 and therefore the subject matter of Claim 1 is not novel (Article 33(2) PCT).

2.2 DEPENDENT CLAIMS 2, 6

Claims 2, 6 contain no features, which in combination with the features of Claim 1 to which they refer, meet the PCT requirements with regard to novelty because they are already known from Document D1 (see D1; Claim 2: paragraph [0027] and Claim 6: paragraph [0023]).

2.3 DEPENDENT CLAIMS 3 through 5, 7 through 11

The combination of features contained in the dependent claims is neither known from the present related art nor is it suggested by it (see, in particular with regard to Claims 2 through 5 and 11, the corresponding passages of Document D4 specified in the search report).
